

As we say good bye to 2023, we enthusiastically welcome 2024, we'd like to take a moment to wish you all the very best for 2024.

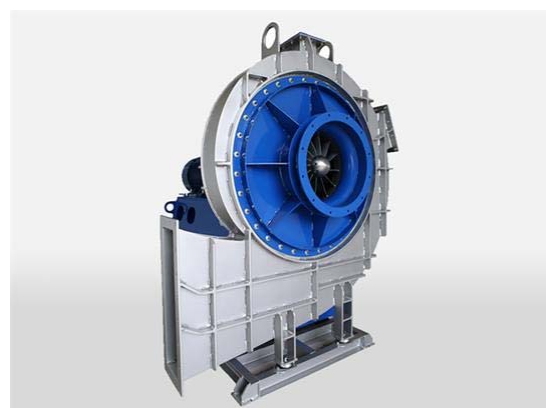

2023: a year of resilience and innovation

2023 has been a year of challenges and opportunities. Artificial intelligence and virtual reality have made their entry at AirVision to improve our services and performance. We'll come back to this in a moment ...

2024: New Adventures, New Possibilities

With the arrival of 2024, we are happy to announce the expansion of our product range with new partners and products to meet your needs even better. Ultra-high pressure fans are now available with efficiencies far beyond anything previously available on the market, and we're even better equipped to meet all your acoustic challenges.

A stronger team than ever

This year, we are also delighted to welcome Alexandre to our team. His passion and expertise will help us to be even more responsive and flexible.

Staying connected

Your feedback, ideas and collaboration are essential to us. We look forward to continuing our journey together to make 2024 an exceptional year. We're here to help and support you in all your projects.

Thank you for being part of our adventure. We wish you a successful, healthy and happy 2024.
